

SUNSET CHIMES NO 10.

3

THE BOSTON BARD TO HIS OLD COAT.

MUSIC BY A.P. HEINRICH.

ALLEGRO MODERATO. M.M. $\text{♩} = 69.$

mf

$\text{♩} = 56.$ —

Andantino con Moto, quasi Allegretto.

ritardando ad lib.

tremolante

f

pp

Old coat thou'st been a friend in need In Life's short rag-ged journey, 'Twould be a graceless thing indeed Now out of doors to turn ye; Now out of doors to turn ye.

con Grazia.

No,

364
Deposited in Clerk's Office of Dist. Ct. N.Y. June 18, 1853

p

no old friend 'twere bet-ter now To brave the world's dread laughter, Than e'er to thoughtless mf ritenuto con Espressione.

fol-ly bow And meet with scorn here-after, And meet with scorn here-after.

p mf ritenuto Tempo, con Gusto.

The

mf f

cringing wretch who turns a-side To spurn a NEED-Y BROTHER, Will

p tremolante mf a piacere. f

Poco piu comodo. $\text{♩} = 54.$

5

p feel the sting of in-jured pride In this world or the other, mf in this p sempre molto legato, con Espressione.

world or the other, or the other.

f mf

$\text{♩} = 66.$

Con poco piu Moto.

And he who leaves an a - - ged friend for - got - ten and neg -

f p piu mosso.

con molta Espressione.

- lected, May he himself when earth shall end By Heav'n it-self re-jected, by

mf

Heav'n it - self . . . re - jected,

Heav'n it - self re - jected,

Then come old friend for thou can'st yet pro - tect me from the weather, And when my sun of life shall set, We'll both lie down to - - gether - We'll both lie down to - - - gether.

ritardando.

Col Canto.

Grandioso.

CODA. LARGHETTO. mf = 66.

con Solemnita.

And when the last loud trump shall sound To wake the King of tremolante.

terrors, Oh! may thy rage in Heav'n be found

p A cloak for all my

ritardando

GRAVE. = 66.

er - - - rors, a cloak for all my er - rors, for all my er - - - rors.

ritardando col Canto.

GRAVE.

pen - - so - ro - - so e ri - - - tar - - - dan - - - do.

Swain Eng^{vr}.